Be True To You- A New Stand on Bullying

This past week completed all three presentations of the anti-bullying program written and performed by the very talented, Ashley Tobias. Knollwood School, Troy Hills and Rockaway Meadow had the opportunity to attend the assembly held at Parsippany Hills High School. I was there to welcome everyone. I really enjoyed the show the first time, and I couldn't believe that it got even better the second time. The kids had a blast as they enthusiastically rocked with Ashley. She even got the teachers to participate. There was a valuable lesson learned today and it was done in a very friendly manner. Thursday marked the last of 3 performances, Be True to You, a musical presentation that builds confidence and highlights anti-bullying. I and the Township of Parsippany, in conjunction with the Board of Education, are very pleased with the manner in which anti-bullying was dealt with in this program. The children walked away with a lot of knowledge while enjoying themselves and rocking to the music. Thank you Ashley Tobias!

Par-Troy Little League East Banquet

I was pleased to attend the Par-Troy Little League East Banquet this previous weekend! The banquet was a great time to celebrate 9U All Stars on their accomplishment as 2016 Chester Mendham Tournament Champions! Everyone that attended the banquet had a lovely time celebrating with them! Congratulations, boys!

Banza!

I had a wonderful time at the Parsippany ShopRite assisting the chefs with their healthy versions of Italian specialties. I was introduced to a new pasta made of beans. Surprisingly, I loved it! With memories of my childhood and the dishes my mother cooked, myself and “Chef” Evelyn had a wonderful time filming our culinary masterpieces. Filmed by Video-on-the-Go, the show will appear on my regularly scheduled program, Pride in Parsippany.

I would like to take the time to congratulate the Parsippany Hills High School Vikings Marching Band on winning the Tournament of Bands Group 3A Chapter 10 NY Metro Regional Championship! The band scored a 92.85, and took awards for best music, best visual, best percussion and best color guard. This was a great accomplishment by all parties involved, enjoy your win- it was well deserved. Go Vikings!
